STAG DRINKING GAMES

WITH WICKED BUCKS LIST OF BACHELOR PARTY DRINKING GAMES, YOU CAN FLING YOURSELF BACK TO YOUR UNI DAYS AND KICK START A CELEBRATION THAT WILL GO DOWN IN HISTORY. HERE ARE SOME DRINKING GAMES THAT WILL BRING OUT THE BAD BOY IN YOU, YOUR BUCK, AND YOUR MATES.

■ 2 DICE: You only need two dice to play this game. Before you start make sure everyone has a big pint and a shot on the table in front of them. On their turn each player rolls both die, the numbers displayed on both of the die determine your next move.

If the two numbers add up to a six, drink from your pint!

If you get double 1s, 2s, 3s or 4s, drink from your pint!

If you get double 3s or 6s, drink from your pint plus take a shot!

Also, drink a shot every time a die rolls off the table (make sure you have more shots). The more players you have for this game, the better - and the longer it takes to get really messy.

■ ANCHOR MAN: Make two teams, the teams sit on opposite sides of the table and in the middle of the table there's a jug of beer. Each player fires off a coin trying to make it land in the jug of beer. The first team to get all their coins in the jug wins.

The winning team then has to pick someone on the losing team to be the "anchor man". The teammates of the anchor man drink first but decide how much of the jug they'll leave for the anchorman, whether it's just a drop or the whole thing. While taking their turns to drink, members of the losing team can't take their mouths of the jug or they have to pass it along to the next person. The anchor man can take has mouth of the jug but he only has two minutes to finish it.

ASSHOLE: You're sure to remember the name of this game.

All cards in the deck are dealt out (minus the jokers). The first person can place any card or cards adding up to the same value on the table. The next player has to match them for number of cards and card values (e.g. if the first player puts down two 10s, you have to put down two 10s too). If the player lays down the exact same card as the previous player, the next player skips a turn and takes a drink. If you can't use any of your cards you have to skip a turn and drink.

After this first round there's a ranking system. The first person to play all their cards becomes the president, the second vice president, the third the secretary and last the asshole. For the rest of the rounds, anyone with a higher rank than you can tell you to drink whenever they feel like it. Tough break for the asshole!

BEER PONG: A game we're sure you know well! Set up a table with two sets of cups positioned in a triangle, The team is split into two teams and stand behind their triangles, players then take turns to lob a ping-pong ball into the cups of their opponents. If they land in the cup the opposing team have to drink, and if they land them in your cups you have to drink. The losing team is the first team to empty all their cups.

BEER RUGBY: The buck stands outdoors with a glass of beer. The rest of the crew has to rush him and tackle him before he can finish the beer. Each round, they get five metres closer until finishing the beer is an almost impossible challenge. It's best he's drinking the beer out of a non-glass cup for this one.

THUMBMASTER: Before the celebrations kick off, somebody in the party is named "The Thumb Master". This person can start the game at any point during the party and as many times as they please, by placing their thumb on the edge of a table. The last person to follow on has to skull their drink. We give this buck's party drinking game a solid thumbs up.

BUFFALO: In this game, everyone has to use their left hand while drinking (unless you're left-handed). If you see a player drinking with their right hand, you and the other players start shouting "BUFFALO! BUFFALO! BUFFALO!" repeatedly while clapping your hands and / or thumping the table. The offending player then has to finish his drink before you stop.
